DEMOCRATIC REVIEW. GREATLY REDUCED PRICE-FROM $5 TO $3 PEI

PROSPECTUS OF THE SEVENTEENTH VOLUME.

THE price of the Democratic Review has heretofore been too high—not for its size, cost, and character, but for the means of tens of thousands of readers who would be glad to receive it, and among whom it is highly desirable that it should circulate. For the purpose, therefore, of largely widening the range of its usefulness, and of multiplying the numbers of those to whom it may be accessible, it has been determined, simultaneously with the great reduction in the expense of the postage, to reduce its subscription price also, from five to only three dollars; and when several unite in subscription, to as low as $2 50, or even to $2 30 per annum.

This very large reduction in the receipts (accompanied with but a comparatively small diminution of its expenses) involves, of course, an entire sacrifice of profit upon it, unless compensated by a vast face of profit upon it, unless compensated by a vast postage paid, addressed to either of the instructors. multiplication of its subscribers. There will be at the outset only a small reduction in its number of pages; soon to be restored to its old number, without increase of price, when the anticipated success of the experiment shall justify it.

The portraits of distinguished democrats will be continued, engraved in better and more costly style than heretofore.

The postage will hereafter, for any distance, be only five and a half cents; it has heretofore been, for over 100 miles, eighteen cents.

We look for an extension of circulation to be reckoned by tens of thousands, as the result and compensation of this great reduction of price. Every friend of the work, and of the democratic principles and cause, is confidently appealed to, to exert himself with an active interest to procure it subscribers, both to extend its usefulness, and to carry it successfully through the crisis of this great reduction of its receipts.

The cash system and payment in advance must be uncompromisingly adhered to. The past relaxation of it has caused an accumulation of not far from $40,000 of debts due to the work. Hereafter, this must be wholly reformed; nor must either the most eminent political friend, or the most intimate personal one, be displeased on experiencing its application, in the stoppage of their numbers, if they neglect this rule; the vital necessity of which, at the present reduced rates, must be obvious to all.

YALE COLLEGE LAW SCHOOL.

THIS department is under the direction of the Hon. David Daggett, LL.D., late chief justice of the supreme court of Connecticut, and professor of law; and the Hon. Samuel J. Hitchcock, LL.D., instructor in the science and practice of law; and Isaac H. Townsend, esq., attorney and counsellor at law.

ounsellor at law.

There are two courses of instruction and study in Counsellor at law.

There are two courses of instruction and study in the school—one called the professional course, and the other called the general course. The object of the professional course is to give a thorough legal education to those gentlemen who propose to enter the profession of law. The design of the general course is, more particularly, to communicate appropriate information to those who wish to attend to jurisprudence as a branch of liberal knowledge. A course, with special reference to mercentitic lose, is introduced as often as any class requests it.

The terms of the professional course for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons: For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year, and sees than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

The terms of the general course are twenty dollars for the whole course, for those who attend that course only no washed in advance, and five dollars a course only no washed in advance.

The professional course commences on the first day of October, and the classes for the general course form on the third Monday of October, annually. Students are advised to join at those times, if convenient; but they are permitted to join at any other times.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT OF THE COLUMBIAN COLLEGE, D. C.—In this school, pupils are fitted for admittance to the college classes, or for other objects. Students who are unprepared for entering a particular class, may here pursue the requisite studies; while those who are not designed for a profession can select such branches as will suit their objects in life.

Mr. Thomas W. Tobey—a gentleman who is amply qualified, having paused through a collegiate course, and been engaged for several years in the business of instruction—will have charge of the school. His whole time and energies will be devoted to its interests; and it is heped it will thus be rendered worthy of extensive patronage.

This school will be under the constant superintendence of the faculty of the college.

EXTENSION OF PATENTS

PATENT OFFICE, June 21, 1845.

decide upon applications for the extended upon applications for the extended the following suggerules, for the benefit of those persons were applications for the benefit of those persons were applications and the second second ereafter apply for extensions.

The questions which arise on each application for m extension are—

1. Is the invention novel?

2. Is it useful?

3. Is it valuable and important to the public?

4. Has the inventor been adequately remunerated for his time and expense in originating and perfecting it?

4. Has the inventor been allequately renumerated for his time and expense in originating and perfecting it?

5. Has he used due diligence in introducing his invention into general use?

The two first questions will be determined upon the result of an examination in the Fatent Office; as will also the third, to some extent.

To enable the board to come to a correct conclusion in regard to the third point of nquiry, the applicant should, if possible, procure the testimony of persons disinterested in the invention, which testimony should be taken under oath.

In regard to the fourth and fifth points of inquiry, in addition to his own oath showing his receipts and expenditures on account of the invention, by which its value is to be ascertained, the applicant should show, by the testimony of disinterested witnesses to introduce his invention into general use, and that, without default or reglect on his part, he has failed to obtain from the use and sale of the invention a reasonable remuneration for the time, ingenuity, and expenditures the interest on the interest on the interest of the interest.

to obtain from the use and sale of the invention a reasonable remuneration for the time, ingenuity, and expénse bestowed on the same, and the introduction thereof into use.

The report of the examiner upon the novelty and utility of the invention, will be ready fifteen days before the day appointed for the hearing, which will be open for inspection at the Patent Office; copies of which will be furnished to all parties interested, if desired, on payment of the usual fees for copies.

In case of opposition by any person to the extension of a patent, both parties may take testimony, each giving reasonable notice to the other of the time and place of taking said testimony, which shall be taken according to the rules prescribed by the Commissioner of Patents in cases of interference. All arguments submitted to the board must be in writing.

writing.

In conclusion, the undersigned would remark, generally, that a monopoly of his invention is secured by law to the inventor for the term of four-teen years. This is done with a view to compensate him for his time and expense in originating and perfecting it. At the end of the time for which his patent runs, his monopoly should cease, and the invention become public property, unless he can show good reasons to the contrary. The presumption is always against his application; and if he cannot show that his invention is novel, useful, valuable, and important to the public, and that, having made all reasonable effort to introduce it into general use, he has not been adequately remunerated for his time and expenses in discovering and perfecting it, the board cannot grant an extension.

NUMBER 96.

LADIES, ALEXANDRIA.

M. RS. MARY L. ELIASON will open a boarding and day school, at her residence, on the corner of Prince and St. Asaph streets, on Monday, the 8th of September next, for the instruction of a limited number of young ladies in the several branches of a thorough English and French education.

branches of a thorough English and French education.

The English department will be conducted by a lady who was formerly a teacher in the Albany Female Academy, and has been for several years teaching in the family of Mrs. Eliason.

Great pains will be taken to teach well the principles of science, the application of which will require diligent study on the part of the pupil; and in order to accomplish fully this important object, teachers of the highest qualifications will be provided for each department. The French teacher will reside in the family, and the pupils will be taught to speak accurately, as well as to read and write the French language.

To those young ladies whose parents desire it, a course of instruction will be given in Latin, as the foundation of modern languages.

The government will be parental, and conducted on Christian principles. Alexandria is admirably located for an institution of this kind, being retired and healthy, combining the advantages of town and country. Members of Congress who have daughters to educate, will find this institution convenient for that purpose, as steamboats ply hourly between Alexandria and Washington city.

WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL.

THE third academic year of this institution will commence on the first Monday in September. In order, however, to obviate the difficulty and delay incident to the formation of new classee, and especially to the examination and proper disposition of new pupils, after the duties of the school have been formally resulmed, parents are carnestly requested to send their sons as early as possible in the week precoding the first day of September. A daily attendance by the pupils during this week, of from two to three hours, will greatly facilitate for ture operations, and obviate much subsequent loss of time.

The department of modern languages, lately vacated by the removal of Mr. Girault, has been intrusted to Professor Dovilliers, a graduate of the University of Paris, and a teacher of experience. This gentleman will also give instruction in drawing and painting. Specimens of his performance, and of that of some of his late pupils in these desirable accomplishments, may be seen at the residence of the subscriber, corner of 18th and I streets.

Six young gentlemen can be received in the family of the principal, of which Professor Dovilliers will be a member, and in which, as far as practicable, the French language will be the medium of conversational intercourse.

Parents residing beyond the limits of the city, either within the District or elsewhere, who may desire for their sons an opportunity of enjoying, in the prosecution of their studies, the singular advantages peculiar to the metropolis for developing and stimulating the intellectual powers, as well as for acquiring varied useful information, may be made acquainted with the character of the High School by consulting any of the gentlemen whose names are appended, and of whom all (except those marked with an asteriak) either now have, or have recently had, sons among its pupils.

The terms for boarders will be $225 for the academic year, payable semi-annually, and always in advance.
